Other comments about this assignment overall or the group or a group member: I pretty much did 90% of the project on my own. My teammates did not have an understanding of the fundamentals of building the project. I did everything from the color palette, wireframe, CSS, html. I had to teach them a lot of the basics. David did the logo and a barebones testimonial page. Ayawovi only did the form database, and Rashaad produced a barebones services page. I carried the entire group for sure.
